Twenty-five Players and a Throng of Oalookers at the Morris County Club-Mrs, Shippen and Miss Oriscom Tied for Sec-ond Monors-Match Came Begins To-day, No golf tournament ever held in these United States of America has surpassed in varied interest the women's championship that was started yesterday on the links of the Morris County Golf Club, at Morristown, N. J. The contestants, it is true, in driving ran from the petty jerk to the giant's swing, yet it is not to supposed that where the game is so young the women should be as exact as Scotch professionals, or such amateurs as Lady Margaret Scott, in their golfing form. It was sufficient that the play was more consistent that any ever exhibited by women on the course, and so close that the "gallery" was kept in a pleasant stage of excitement to the end,

The battle of the day was to find the eight best players at the stroke game, who will fight out to the finals at the older and more exact form of the game, known as match, or hole, When tried by this test it was known that two of the home players were among the elect-Mrs. Shippen, 102, and Miss Shelton, 111. The others were: Miss Hoyt, 95; Miss Griscom, 102; Miss Sands, 103; Miss McLane, 105; Miss C. Oliver, 105, and Mrs. Turnure, 105. Three cups were offered by the United States Golf Associa tion for the best scores at medai play. Miss Hoyt won one, Mrs. Shippen and Miss Gri tying for the other two. They will play off the tie on Saturday. The survivors will play to-day in this order, in the first round at match play Miss Sands vs. Mrs. Shippen, Miss McLane vs Miss Hoyt, Miss Otiver vs. Miss Griscom, and Miss Shelton vs. Mrs. Turnure.

There was more than a suspicion of rain in the air in the early morning, and the throng of arrivals at the cosey club house, who rolled up in carriages or pushed up on bicycles, were rather dispirited at the outlook. But when the time came for the first pair to drive off at 11 o'clock the sun shone out brightly, and, throughout the day, the weather was all right, although the day was of the cold and gray order. It was many times better than the drizzle of last November, when thirteen women started for the first champion ship at Meadowbrook. Four withdrawals were announced: Mrs. W. Butler Duncan, Jr., of the Country Club of Westchester, Mrs. Deveraux Emmet of the Ovster Bay Golf Club, Mrs. Arthur Dean, Morris County Golf Club, and Miss Cassatt, Philadelphia Country Club. This made a few changes in the order of play, but the list was substantially as printed in THE SUN yesterday. Miss Lois Raymond of the home club played the rounds with Miss Clarke, who had drawn a bye, to enable her to score.

The first tee, on the verge of the punch bowl, is directly in front of the club house. It was surrounded by the non-players, men and women and flanked to the right by a triple line of spectators on lawn chairs. Back of these onlookers was the veranda, that was also crowded with people, making in all, in the opportunities for calm and observant criticism, the most formidacalm and observant criticism, the most formida-ble "gallery" yet seen at a golf game in this sountry. But it did not phase the players for girls and matrons alike seemed supremely in-different to the bystanders. Men, even veterans from abroad, could not have acted in such an unconcerned way. It should be noted here, berhaps, that Laurence Curtis, Vice-Pressident of the United States Golf Association, who had journeyed on from Boaton for the event, and H. O. Tallmadge, the Secretary, directed the starting off of the pairs. Others in the gallery were:

Charles Bohien, R. E. Griscom, Mr. and Mrs. Marmaduke Tilden, Admiral Unter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Allston Flags, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Freiinghuyen, Arthur B. Froet, Mr. and Mrs. Molecular B. Froet, Mr. and Mrs. Bobert A. Granniss, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Robert Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Robert Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mr. Tolkols, W. G. Yan Tassell Surphen, and Charles B. Cox.

For the first hole the play was 105 yards, a pulled or hooked ball finding the depths of the punch bowl. A few only made topped or solaffed shots, the greater number gaining a good place on their stroke. One of the longest drives was made by Miss Bands, but those who did about as well were Mrs. Zerrahn, Mrs. Shippen, Miss Hoyl, Miss Griscom, Miss Shelton, and Miss McLane. In Jauntiness and sweep Miss Hoyl had perhaps the best swing, but Miss Griscom had a dash and finish in her stroke that caught the experts. This Philadelphia girl is a brunette of impressive beauty, and, as she stood on the tee in the act of sending the ball away, her poise was a moch of grace, Miss McLane, also a brunette, was a pleture on the tee, and Miss Cora Oliver, a handsome girl of the blonde type, was another who showed science in her play, and was perfect in swing and style. But these are but a few who were noted for their good play and the pretty pictures they presented as they stepped out before the critical "gailery." In dress the style was a plain skirt, of whipcord, tweed or gray plaid; a silk shirt waist, of color and stripe to please the fancy, a hat of any type thought see, in spite of fine drives and cleek shots, you get in the railroad tracks, when it is just too bad; that's what!"

Miss Sands and Miss Hoyt tied at 47 in the first round, after each had been bunkered on the seventh hole. Miss Hoyt repeated her steady game on the next round, but dropped a stroke by a poor approach shot on the fourth hole. Miss Sands, in the afternoon, was a trifle wild in the approach plays, which affected her score on the second nine, although she made no glaring blunders. Miss McLane and Mrs Turnure also fell off on their play in the afternoon, while Miss Griscom, Mrs. Shippen. Miss C. Oliver, and Miss Shelton were in better form than at first. Miss Griscom's second round was particularly strong, and, but for one or two weak puts, she would have beaten the course record.

weak puts, she would have each to the record.

Specially good plays were made at many holes by some among the unplaced division at the end. Mrs. Zerrahn made the seventh hole on the second round in three, a record, and but for trouble in getting the hang of the greens in putting this Brookline player would have been well to the fore, and Miss E. Oliver, Miss Little, Miss Green, and Miss Post made many long and clever drives.

and Miss Post made many long and clever drives.

In the minor details the tournament was managed in a style worth imitating by all other clubs. The Green Committee, Ransom H. Themas, Barrett L. Chandler, George G. Klp. W. Bard McVickar, and Alexander H. Tiers, at tended to every point personally. For one thing, a large blackboard was displayed in the eyes of all on which every card was marked by strokes as soon as handed in by the scorer. Under this system there was no chance of a mistake being made. The greens were in excellent order, and showed the care of the professionals, Wier and Stark, while a corps of fifty. The scores follow:

RIFLE SHOOTING.

Gen, Fitzgerald and His Staff Practice Creedmoor.

CREEDMOOR, Oct. 6.-Brig.-Gen. Louis Fitz revald, commanding the First Brigade, together with his staff, practised here to-day. The day was a good one for shooting, there being a gray light and scarcely any wind. Gen. B. M. Whit ock, General Inspector of Rifle Practice, S. N. Y., visited the range in the afternoon and shot in the sharpshooters' class. Following are the results of the day's practice:

Barnard School, 41 St. Austin's School, 6 A close and hard-fought game of football was played between the elevens representing the Barnard School of this city and St. Austin's High School of New Brigh ton, Staten Island, at Mount Morris Park yesterday afternoon. Although the Barnard boys had the ball in their opponents' fifteen-yard line in the first half the St. Austin lads stopped the former's terrific rushes in great style and the half ended with no score. In the second half the Harnard boys had the ball in their opponents' terrifory all the ilms, and with repeated centre plays forced Stavard Infough for a touch down. Curits failed at goal as time was called. The line-spi

Providence, Oct. 6.—The Brown football team will go to New Haven to morrow confident that it will make a satisfactory showing against Yale. Nobody claims that the term as a whole is up to last year's, but the good work exhibited in the past few days' practice has greatly encouraged the college supporters. Brown broke even with Yale last year in a 6-to-5 game, but few expect this year's team to make any such showing.

The Sherwood A. C. has a few open dates which it would like to fill with any 120-pound team. The following is the schedule to dase: Oct. 11, St. George Battalion. at Fordham; 15. During the summer a number of ex-college men who were interested in football got together and organized an eleven called the Volunteers, which was to represent this city on the gridiron. There was great enthusiaem at the start, and the way they intended to lay out the other teams after having a shy at Vale, Princeton, and Pennsylvanta, caused mild interest in football circles. Everything was in readiness, and on Saturday, Sept. 20, they journeyed out to Easton to show the Lafayette eleven how to play. The college boys, in two short halves, beat them by a score of 44 to 0, and yesterday, it was announced that the Volunteers had disbanded and in future would play football from a spectator's point of view.

The Yale team will be seen for the first time in the vicinity of New York on next Saturday at the Orange Oval in a game with the Orange A.C. The latter team will be made up of nearly the same players that succeeded in Scoring twelve points against the New Haven men last year. Bueil, Mohor. Collsmore, Hopkins. De Hart, Suuphen, Bird, Cumings, Kyle, Marshall, Brown, and Lavcon are some of the players who will oppose Yale. The Orange team, under Capt, Marshall, has been training in the Orange Riding Ciub Louse at Brick Church for two weeks, and the team feels confident of scoring against the collegians. The Jerseymen have games with Hoston A.A., Chicago A.A., Laryette, Dartmouth, and Elizabeth A.C.

New Brenswick, Oct. 6.—The football team of Ruigers College was greatly weakened in the game with Princeton last saturday by Carpenter, one of the best players, breaking two ligaments in his leg. TENDERNESS IN FRONT. MIKE CLANCY MAKES THE HIT

OF THE DAY AT AQUEDUCT.

His Filly Buss Five and a Half Parloans in 1:09, a New Track Record-Over-looked by the Talent, [Mohawk Prince Wiss a Good Race-Paverice Of Day Overcoats were worn in comfort at Aqueduct resterday, but the cold, raw weather had little effect on the attendance, about 2,000 persons witnessing the sport. The talent did not fare quite so well as on the opening day of the meeting, Mohawk Prince and Tenderness, at long events on the programme much to the surprise of the knowing ones. Mike Clancy's speedy little filly Tenderness made the hit of the day by running five and a half furlongs in 1:08, the track record for the distance, and defeating a pretty good field of sprinters in handsome style. The daughter of Roseberry and Compassion had done nothing of account lately and she was quoted at 15 to when the betting opened, Dolando, the "Pride of Park Row," Lady Diamond, and Roligion being counted upon as the probable contending horses. Clancy and all his friends backed the good thing down to 8 to 1 before the start, and the layers were hard hit when Hirsch rushed Tenderness to the front at flagfall, keeping her well in the lead all the way to the finish line. Dolando was good enough to beat all of the others four or five lengths, but in spite of Hewitt's hard ride in the omestretch the shapely gelding could not get within striking distance of Tenderness, who wor cleverly with two lengths of daylight to spare Hermia was left standing at the post, and Religion faired little better, getting off away behind the others.

The fast but uncertain two-year-old, Mohawk Prince, had one of his good days, and with the odds 15 to 1 against his chance he landed the opening dash at five and a half furlongs in the Prince, had one of his good days, and with the odds 15 to 1 against his chance he landed the opening dash at five and a half furlongs in the fast time of 1:09. The Kentucky Stable's Hanover cott, Orion, who had shown high form in the West earlier in the campaign, was a hot favorite in this race, starting, at odds on. He ran peorly, finishing last, while Mohawk Prince, the rank outsider of the lot, made one of his irresistible rushes through the homestretch, and, overhauling Hurl in the last furlong, won a ratting race by about two lengths. Free Lance followed the lead of Mohawk Prince, and ran astong enough to beat Hurl an open length for the place.

Scroggan and Bergen were most fancied of the round dozen rather commonplace three-year-olds that started in the second race at a mile, and the contest was between the two throughout. Nick Johnson looked dangerous early in the race, but weakened at the head of the stretch, leaving Scroggan alone to handle Bergen, who always held a slight lead. He had something left when the chestnut gelding challenged him a furlong from home, and won handly by an open length.

Marshall in the fourth race was the first favorite to win. He started at even money and finished without a drive when Sheedy got ready to turn him looke in the homestretch. Argentina, Ingomar, and Hailstone all carried considerable money. The latter was left standing in his tracks when the flag fell, the 40-to-1 outsider Dorothy dashing away in the lead. Aftersome rough jostling in the soramble for position on the lower turn the Prince Royal filly remained in front on sufferance to the last furlong, but she was an easy mark for the big bayson of Voltigeur when it came to the finish. She lasted long enough, however, to land the 10-to-1 place bets of her backers.

"Father Bill" Daly's tail, racy looking chestnut filly Braggione, was a hot favorite in the fifth race, a sprint of five and a half furlongs for maiden two-year-olds. When the rubber band snappeil, Robole W. at 4 to 1, rushed to the front and opened a

THE JOCKEY CLUB ENJOINED. Judge Lacombe Grants a Temporary In-

Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit Court yesterday granted a preliminary injunction to Col. Sanders D. Bruce, restraining the Jockey Club from publishing or selling any matter copied from Bruce's American Stud Book, or from unpublished records and manuscripts furnished by Col. Bruce to the Jockey Club. The injunction covers such part of the list of names claimed and pedigrees of thoroughbred horses registered with the Jockey Club up to June I, 1895, as has been obtained from the stud book, and which is said to constitute about one-fifth of the list now being published by the Jockey Club in the Racing Calcadar. It also covers the list of thoroughbred foals of 1893 heretofore published by the Jockey Club.

As to the list of foals of 1894, the evidence presented by Col. Bruce is not deemed to be sufficiently clear to warrant a preliminary injunction, and that part of the case will remain open until the final hearing is reached. The evidence shows, according to the decision of the Court, that the greater portion of the matter which is enjoined has been taken from the plaintiff's publications and from his unpublished manuscripts. bred horses registered with the Jockey Club up

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. National Cycle Board of Trade Adopt Quarantee.

The Board of Directors of the National Cycle Board of Trade held a meeting at their offices on Monday and discussed the question of cycle exguarantees, and the government of hibits. racing. The Board reviewed the work accomplished for the eastern and western cycle shows to be held early next year, and expressed confidence that they will be the most successful ever held. The question of what guarantee nanufacturers should give with new bicycles next season resulted in the adoption of the fol-

We agree with the purchaser of each bleycle t make good, by repair or replacement, when delivered at our factory, transportation prepaid, any imperfetion or defect in material or manufacture of such bleycle not caused by misuse or neglect; provided that the factory serial number shall be on such bicycle at the time the claim is made, and that all imperfect or defective parts shall be referred to us be allowed. This guarantee continues for six months from the date of the sale by the agent.

This guarantee will likely be accepted by all he leading manufacturers.

It was the generally expressed sentiment of the meeting that the conduct of racing in all its aspects should be left entirely in the hands of he L. A. W. With that end in view, the Racing Committee of the Cycle Board of Trade was Wheelmen in California are preparing to take steps to induce the L. A. W. to change its rules in order to make it optional with divisions to approve or disapprove of Sunday racing. In the West and South there is a strong feeling among . A. W. members that racing on Sundays should be tolerated in some sections, and unless the League consents to change its rules there is every indication that steps will be taken in the West and South to organize a racing association, independent of the L. A. W., for the pro motion and government of Sunday races. Prominent members of the League claim that the prohibition of Sunday racing in California and other places in the West is detrimental to the organization. The present officials, how ever, are opposed to Sunday racing.

The experiment with outdoor racing at night has not been overly successful, and it is doubtful if the scheme will generally prevail next year. Racing men are reluctant to contest out doors at night for fear of accidents, and the poo lighting facilities at the out-door tracks makes competition hazardons.

MAGNATES RULE FAIRLY. NATIONAL BOARD'S DECISION IN

THE WESTERN LEAGUE CASE. Meets with Approval by Those Directly Interested-The Board's Membership Reduced to Four, and Another Meeting to Be Reld in Chicago Next Month. The members of the National Board of Arbitration spent the entire day yesterday discuss-ing the trouble in the Western League and finally decided upon a line of policy that seems likely to bear fruits. The Board must receive credit for acting with care and discretion in a matter that provided more complications than any that has been under consideration for years. Instead of high-handed methods and socalled piracy, the Board passed upon the merits of the case and made such a just ruling that everybody interested was satisfied. The petition of the Indianapolis and Minneapolls clubs for the right to withdraw from the Western League and at the same time hold their players under the protection of the na-tional agreement was dismissed because the Board found after a lengthy discussion that it did not have the necessary jurisdiction in the matter. But Mesars. Soden, Byrne, Young, and Brush, like the shrewd magnates that they are, lost no time in so amending the national agree ment that in the future the Board will have arbitrary power to act in any similar case. At the same time the Board passed a series of resolutions that will undoubtedly be read with inter est by the six other Western League clubs and greatly influence them in their future methods of procedure,

The Board decided to withhold the protection of the national agreement until the Western League shall file with the Board a copy of its original constitution under which it has been operating. By this the Board expects to find ut and hold censorship over certain irregularities which, it is claimed, have been in vogue to the detriment of the Indianapolis and Minneapolis clubs. The following, which was adopted, speaks volumes:

Amendment to Section 3-The Board shall have power also to pass upon any question brought before is by a club member or members of any organization, where usjust discrimination has been made against any club or clubs, and if upon a hearing the Board finds that such charge or charges are true, it shall have the power to impose such fines or penalties as it deems proper, or to forfeit and terminate the privieges of such organization under this agreement.

In a word, if the Board finds that the Indian apolis and Minneapolis clubs have been illegally agreement.

**Resolved. That action by this Hoard on the application of the Western League for protection under the national agreement be deferred until the adjourned meeting of this Board, which will be held in Chicago
Nov. 12, 1890.

ition of the Western League for protection under the national agreement be deferred until the adjourned meeting of this Board, which will be held in Chicago Nov. 12, 1800.

In other words, the Western League has between now and Nov. 11, the date of its own meeting, and Nov. 12, the Board meeting, to patch up a truce. None of the old charges can be resurrected by the two complaining clubs, but if anything new crops up, the Board will consider it. It is also understood that the Board as it now exists will sit on that occasion, although an election of new members is on for the same day.

The expected rivalry over the selection of the fifth member of the National Board at the coming League meeting in Chicago was nipped in the bud. As Mr. Byrne explained later, the Board after due deliberation decided to reduce the membership to four, there being apparently excellent reasons for so doing. Mr. Byrne said to The Sun reporter:

"The Board made this move simply because it was advisable and the only fair thing to do. When the fifth vacancy was created last spring by the League there was a great deal of controversy about who should be elected. Some clubs felt that there should be two members from the West and a similar number from the East. But the Board seemed to feel that this might create a sectional feeling, which should not exist in a Board of this nature. It appeared to us then that if the Board was increased to five members there would be a certain amount of embarrassment for all hands, and that in order to avoid any trouble it was better to out the membership down to four.

"It was also pointed out by Mr. Soden that if the Board consisted of five members it would fall upon Mr. Young in many instances to cast the deciding vote, which would be by no means pleasant. So the Board, vested with the power which is clearly stipulated in the rational agreement, voted to reduce the number to four. This does not imply that this action of the Board has any effect on the present memberahip, for the reason that when the League

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 6 .- In spite of the threatenng weather here to-day the opening matches of the intercollegiate tennis tournament were deided. Budleng, who is entered from Brown University, caused considerable surprise by succumbing to Driscoll of Georgetown College, a comparatively unknown player. Driscoll did the trick by holding the net and forcing Budlong to lob continually. The Brown student weakened under this change in his usual tactics and was defeated in straight sets. Perry, the Williams College champion, was also defeated, Williams College champion, was also defeated, after a hot contest, by lodge of Yele, who won on some capital ground work coupled with a swift and accurate service.

Whitman, who is doing battle for Harvard, put Neely of Cornell out of the race in a tame contest of two sets, while Ware, another of the Harvard representatives, was also successful over Sankey of Princeton. Hackett, a Yale competitor, distinguished himself by a clever victory over Rogers of the University of Pennsylvania.
